

About Us

Nova Concrete Construction Inc., is one of Northern Virginia's premier construction contractors serving both Commercial and Residential projects with Asphalt, Concrete, Demolition, Masonry, Utility and Wall Construction. The company started out subcontracting smaller projects to larger general contractors while establishing its credential set to include several completed projects which could be tapped for reference(s) regarding the companies ability to successfully bid projects competetively and complete them as promised.

Nova Concrete started bidding projects independently and was awarded several residential projects which proved successful and seemed to fit into the companies idea of manageable workload and distributable resources. The company has maintained it's footprint mostly in residential construction and has only recently started looking to procure a larger scale commercial projects due to current economy and real estate concerns.

Today, Nova Concrete continues to be based out of Southern Maryland and still shares the very same principles on which it was started; Quality, Knowledge and Competitive Service. They value the safety and well being of their workers and clients alike, making sure all avenues are explained in depth to all parties on what to expect on how everyone should collectively proceed prior to and during the project.
